Providing Strategic Security Solutions

Investigation is the backbone of the serving of justice; and central to it—the Investigator. In cases ranging from accidents to theft and sabotage, the competency and professionalism of the Investigator makes a dramatic difference to the outcome and parties involved in a crime or incident. The correct techniques of investigation are therefore critical to uncovering information, identifying evidence and putting the case together. An asset to any organization, a good grounding in investigation techniques is both relevant and important for personnel in safety/security, regulatory and management roles.

Course Synopsis:

This is a professional course conducted by a senior investigation practitioner with extensive actual experience on the ground. Participants will develop an understanding of what entails a good investigative stance and acquire the competencies to uncover information about a crime and determine causes of an incident. By the end of the programme, participants will also have gained a fundamental understanding of the legal system and be competent and confident to conduct a sound and unbiased inquiry.

Course Benefits:

1. Acquire the asset of Investigation Techniques straight from a master in the field.
2. Be equipped to effectively manage investigative procedures in-house.

Course Completion:

On successful course completion, a Certificate of Completion will be awarded by STET Homeland Security Services.
